

Short Bio

Sharmin Ali—serial entrepreneur, powerhouse keynote speaker, bestselling author, and angel investor—is a trailblazer in tech and AI, and one of the foremost and fiercest advocates for mental health..

Long Bio

She's founded multiple ventures, creating over 10,000 jobs and raising $200 million in capital. Her influence extends from boardrooms to NASDAQ spotlights, where she's been honored globally for her impact with awards for her work, and recognized by major media outlets ranging from Fortune, Forbes, Entrepreneur, Newsweek, TIME, and CNBC, for her innovation.

As the founder of the Sharmin Ali Foundation for Entrepreneurs (SAFE), she remains fervent in her commitment to tackling the mental health crisis plaguing entrepreneurs, providing critical support and resources to those navigating the high-stakes world of business. She is also the creator of Establish.club, the first-of-its-kind 'Harvard for CEOs,' an elite online platform democratizing access to world-class entrepreneurial education that combines Ivy League-caliber instruction with practical, real-world knowledge. A fearless world traveler who's explored over 70 countries, Ali has channeled her experiences into three bestselling books, including her latest, "BITCH, STOP! PLEASE..", an unadulterated manifesto for taking control of your destiny and rewriting the rules.

Sharmin is a sought-after keynote speaker on innovation, mental health, and women in tech, delivering electrifying talks to Fortune 500 audiences that ignite change and champion possibilities. Her journey is a testament to her fiery resilience and unapologetic ambition—proving that true leadership isn't just about success, it's about breaking barriers and championing possibilities

Sharminali.com

